

OSP - [redacted] 3 March 1966

Meeting with ADW, [redacted] Messrs [redacted] and McMahon
subj: OSP/SAS Relations

10 Jan 1966 memo to ADW had requested that he define the role and mission of the Systems Analysis Staff. Memo prompted by a series of acts on [redacted] part in areas which OSP felt were its domain, at least in some cases that the actions should have been coordinated with OSP.

OSP had felt that SAS would do system analysis in the community sense and in coordination with OSP.

OSP reps agreed with Dr. Wheelon that it was his prerogative to have an independent source to take a critical look at programs in general, but asked him to agree with the principle that the SAS would in no way get into the details or designs of OSP systems.. ADW assured that the SAS would in no sense be a technical IG nor would he want it involved in technical details of OSP programs. OSP should do everything it is doing about systems analysis. Also [redacted] should not engage in any conversations outside the Agency on DDS&T programs without prior coordination with OSP or ADW.

ADW advised OSP to insure good communications between themselves and [redacted]
